

... To Lead

We do not expect you to be just a passive participant, but in all areas we welcome your gifts, talents and leadership. If you have some dream of a ministry, we'd love to hear about it.

Anson Purdy, a 2010 graduate of Rhodes and member of FBC, started his own non-profit to benefit children in Costa Rica. Our church was proud to be a sponsoring contributor. Later Anson passed on his passion for missions to our own children as he taught our elementary boys' mission program. Once again, we welcome your gifts, talent, and leadership.

... To Study

College and Career Bible Study meets immediately after 11:00 a.m. worship each Sunday at noon in the Family Life Center. It is led by our pastor, Dr. David Breckenridge. Many Sundays the discussion is focused around themes presented in worship, through attendance in worship is not a prerequisite. Best Part—Lunch is provided!

For those seeking a more intergenerational Bible Study experience at a more traditional time, other Bible Study classes meet at 9:45 a.m. before morning worship. Connect 4 is a great class of young adults including those in their 20s, 30s, and 40s, led by our associate pastor, Carol Richardson, and her husband, Greer. You are more than welcome to visit and/or join any class.

Wednesday night options at 6 p.m. offer some unique opportunities. This fall our adult options feature one lecture based study, one small group study and one community building group (meeting in the Family Life Center, sponsored by the Connect 4 class).

... To Play

An integral part of faith development is fellowship and community building. This is especially true when you're away from home. Our College and Career group gathers every Thursday night at 7 p.m. at our Family Life Center. Most of the time we stay there and play basketball, volleyball, bowl, skate, play cards, watch movies, etc. Occasionally, though, we take things on the road. Movies, the Levitt Shell Concert series, Redbird games, and hiking at Shelby Farms, playing soccer, playing golf, Grizzlies' games have all been on our list.

In addition, we have other churchwide fellowship and recreation opportunities.

Connection, our Wednesday night community building option, is something of a work in progress, but recreation and fellowship will be part of the picture.

If you would like, go to our website, www.fbcmemphis.org and fill out one of our family life and recreation surveys. We will use this to build mailing lists of those interested in specific activities. We will then be sure to notify you when such opportunities are put on the schedule. An upcoming option for us will be watching sporting events and special events via a new HD projector and screen in our ever improving family life center.

... To Serve

As Christians we want to invest our lives in groups and causes that make a difference in this world. We know this is true for you as well.

So our College and Career group provides opportunities for you to do that. We don't even have to leave our own building for many efforts. Memphis Interfaith Hospitality Network has its day center in our building. CrossLink, a ministry that collects and distributes medical supplies to international medical mission teams, is located downstairs. Rudy Howard heads up one of the most successful mentoring programs for African-American teens in Memphis from the second floor of our Family Life Center. In addition, we work closely with area ministries such as Rachel's Kids, Caritas Village, and Arkwings.

If you are new to Memphis, we know those names don't mean much to you, but what it does mean is that we are a church filled with folks committed to making a difference in this world. We would love to help you find the place where your gifts and talents can bring about the greatest amount of good.
